Yank Infantry Attacks Jap Garrison on Mindanao

Divebombers Aid U. S. Doughboys Outside Davao

Battle of Fair Proportions Reported Started in Northwest Area

By FRED HAMPSON
MANILA, Friday, May 11 (P)—The Twenty-fourth Infantry division was definitely at grips today with Japan's garrison on Mindanao island. A battle of fair proportions was mounting just north of captured Davao city, between the Talamo and Davao rivers. Doughboys who established a bridgehead across the Talamo Tuesday settled down to the tough job of forcing the Japanese out of their typical elaborate cave defenses. They were making steady gains against stiff resistance.

Marine Divebombers Attack

Eighty-five marine divebombers closely supported by ground operation. There still was no word on the American infantry battalion which was reported virtually isolated Monday by a Japanese counter-attack. A headquarters spokesman said the Japanese civilian population of Davao, an estimated 18,000 persons, apparently had evacuated inland and up the Kibawe-Talamo trail toward a high plateau in the Davao hinterland.

American Doughboys, meantime were reported making steady gains against stubborn resistance in the Davao sector of Mindanao island in the Philippines. Yanks of Maj. Gen. Roscoe Woodruff's Twenty-fourth division were systematically reducing Japanese strongholds and penetrating enemy positions in the Talamo river area. They established a bridgehead across the river Tuesday.

was reported "rapidly consolidating its advances." Progress on Tarakan On Tarakan island, off Borneo, Australian troops penetrated the southern edge of the big Djoeata oil field. Other elements with air support, were applying pressure from the south and west on the enemy defenses in the center of the island.

Targets on nearby Borneo were hit by medium bombers and fighters

These included Jesselton, Brunei Bay, Kuching and Tawau. Shipyards were wrecked, warehouses set ablaze and shipping off-shore harassed.

Transportation Squeeze Likely To Continue

WASHINGTON, May 10 (P)—No easing of the transportation squeeze will result from the end of the war in Europe, the Office of Defense Transportation said today. Describing the next twelve to fifteen months as the "most critical in the history of American transportation," ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson said in a statement that it might become necessary to establish a system of priorities to cover the movement of civilian commodities.

OPA Strikes Back: Charges Rep. Dudley Roe Violated Federal Emergency Price Controls

BALTIMORE, May 10 (P)—Rep. Dudley G. Roe (D-Md)—who last week issued a statement saying he thought the Office of Price Administration should be "scrapped," was named a defendant in an OPA suit today.

The OPA named the Eastern Shore congressman and two relatives, trading as W. D. Roe and son, grain brokers, Sudlersville, Md., as defendants in a suit for treble damages of alleged overcharges, and an injunction order against alleged violations of the Emergency Price Control act of 1942.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut signed an order giving the defendants until June 1 to show cause why the OPA injunction should not be issued.

The other defendants besides Roe are his son, Dudley G. Roe, Jr., and Brown M. Roe.

The first count of the two-count suit asked damages of $6,966.27, or three times the alleged overcharges occurring in the operation of the Roe Grain-Handling Service.

War Department Announces Plans To Release Men

WASHINGTON, May 10 (P)—Soldiers who have rolled up a point score of eighty-five — based on length and toughness of service and faithfulness — are eligible for release, the War department disclosed today.

One child, one year in the army, one year overseas count twelve points each under the system for cutting the fighting force. Each combat decoration adds five points.

Release of 1,300,000

Approximately 1,300,000 men, including 650,000 in Europe and 433,000 in the Pacific area, will be released during the next twelve months under the plan.

This number may be stepped higher by maintaining draft calls above actual replacement needs.

"Critical" scores for the various forces—air, ground, service and WACS—have not yet been set but to avoid any delay in demobilization, the army has fixed the interim score of eighty-five (forty-four for WACS) as the minimum for discharge. These minima may be lowered later.

Those who have built up the required score are eligible for release now and some of them will move to separation centers within a week.

However, some men with the required score may be detained because the army needs their special skills.

The score card for computing eligibility for discharge, was released simultaneously at the War department and to soldiers around the world. Here is the weight given to each factor:

How It Works Out

One point will be credited for each month of army service since September 16, 1940. (The time of service is computed from the date the soldier reached the reception center. Any fifteen-days or more will count as a month.)

One point will be given for each month served overseas since September 16, 1940.

Five points will be given for each army award for combat, such as the distinguished service cross, purple heart and battle participation stars; for each similar award made by the navy and for each award or decoration granted by a foreign country and recognized by the War department.

12 Points for Each Child

Twelve points will be allowed for each child under eighteen years, up to a maximum of three children. In the case of enlisted men who (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Japanese Human Bombs Damage Okinawa Bridge

But Yanks Get Across River near Island's Capital City

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, Friday, May 11. (P)—Troops of the Sixth marine division bridged the mouth of the Asa river near Okinawa's capital city, Naha yesterday and forced a crossing despite attempts of two Japanese human bombs to thwart them.

Bitter hand-to-hand fighting was reported all along the Southern Okinawa front and United States warships for the fifth straight day were called upon for support. They broke up enemy troop concentrations in rear areas.

Human Bombs Fail

The Asa flows into the sea on Western Okinawa between Machinato airfield, captured last week, and Naha. The two Japanese who tied heavy explosive charges to themselves, then plunged onto the span in attempts to blow it up, succeeded only in damaging it and delaying the crossing by Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd's Sixth marine division.

The Asa had formed a natural barrier to the Americans' southward push.

Japanese casualties in the Okinawa fighting total 38,857 through Wednesday, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' communique reported today.

This increased enemy casualties by 2,322 in two days. American Tenth army casualties through Monday were 16,425, including 2,684 dead.

Japs Attack Shipping

The Japanese made several attacks on American shipping off Okinawa Wednesday evening, damaging two fleet auxiliaries. They also bombed Yontan airfield, but "without success," Nimitz said.

Yesterday morning, the Japanese made a dawn attack on both shipping and ground installations but did "no damage," the communique reported.

These attacks cost the enemy six aircraft shot down.

Supported by heavy naval bombardment and aerial bombing and strafing which broke up troop concentrations in rear areas and destroyed or damaged pillboxes, gun emplacements and motor transports, Tenth army troops made "limited gains" throughout the southern front yesterday.

Made Greatest Advance

The Sixth marine division, on the west coast, bridged the estuary of the Asa river, which flows into the sea near Naha city. Then it crossed the stream for the day's greatest advance.

Attempting to knock out the bridge-building elements, two Japanese made themselves human bombs and detonated their charges on the bridge in the early morning hours yesterday. This delayed construction of the bridge a short time.

The entire northern half of Okinawa, captured early in the campaign, has been so thoroughly cleared of Japanese that it was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

No Change Planned in Convoy System

NEW YORK, May 10 (P)—Despite the end of the war in Europe there has been no change in the convoy system of sending supplies abroad, navy and shipping officials said today.

Officials are working on the theory that some submarines may not have received the surrender order and that some U-boat officers who are fanatical Nazis might prey on Allied shipping until their torpedoes are exhausted.

Goering Sounds Off: "Hitler Ignorant, von Ribbentrop Scoundrel and Hess is Eccentric"

By A. I. GOLDBERG

KITZBUHEL, Austria, May 10. (P)—Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering today told Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, commanding the United States Thirty-sixth Division, that Adolf Hitler was narrow and ignorant, that former foreign minister Joachim von Ribbentrop was a scoundrel and that Rudolf Hess was eccentric but had tremendous energy.

After these assertions, Goering fell with gusto upon a luncheon plate of chicken, potatoes and peas, Dahlquist said.

Wage Levels Pegged: War Labor Board Announces Plans To Keep Pay Rates as They Are Now

WASHINGTON, May 10. (P)—The War Labor Board today announced it will follow a policy of keeping wage rates at present levels during the shift from war to peacetime production.

The board said it will be just as alert to guard against a drop in general pay levels as it has been against increases.

Chairman George W. Taylor told a news conference that some changes in basic scales may be approved, but they will not be retroactive, as at present.

War Plants Not Included

The board must approve the pay schedules of converting plants, but those continuing to produce for war against Japan without a turnover of job classifications need not apply for approval of their scales beyond the normal procedures which have been in effect in the past.

Plants making a shift over will be required to submit their new schedules to the board before or just as soon as they are put into effect.

All Nazi Units May Be Tried For War Crimes

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10 (P)—The United States has proposed that organizations such as the Nazi party, as well as individuals, be tried for atrocities and war crimes.

In an official announcement, the State department disclosed today that Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, personal representative of President Truman, has completed conferences here with representatives of Great Britain, Russia and France on the prosecution of war criminals.

The department said it was the purpose of proposals laid before the group by Rosenman "to organize machinery and set up a procedure which will assure a just and expeditious trial to the major individuals and to the organizations accused of atrocities and war crimes in Europe—but one which will permit no evasion, undue delay or dilatory tactics."

In connection with this, it was explained by a State department official that if an enemy political organization is placed on trial and convicted of war crimes, all members of the organization would be subject to punishment.

This would make possible the mass prosecution of individuals who helped themselves in the residence of Quisling's high court, and the former chief of the Quisling state police, Henrik Rogstad.

Once a truce was called to milk some nearby cows. Lie and the other were without hope of escape through a cordon of freedom fighters surrounding the redoubt and their capture was expected momentarily. The Patriots, however, were just letting them starve. As one Patriot put it "we are not going to waste a single Patriot's life on those rats."

Quisling himself was awaiting arraignment on treason charges—probably tomorrow. He was reported alternately weeping and tearing up his meager cell furnishings.

Meanwhile reports in informed quarters said that German commissioner Josef Thibovien had shot and killed himself in the residence of Crown Prince Olaf at Skaugum, twelve miles from Oslo.

Three Red Army Groups Battle To Trap Nazis

Russians Make Great Gains and Many of Enemy Force Gives Up

By ROMNEY WHEELER

LONDON, Friday, May 11. (P)—Three Russian army groups launch powerful offensives in Czechoslovakia yesterday after tactical Nazi troops refused to accept Germany's unconditional surrender. The Russians slashed out fifty-seven mile gains and threatened to trap thousands of enemy soldiers seeking to reach American lines.

More than forty-eight hours after the official end of all hostilities in Europe, the Soviet high command announced that the First, Second and Fourth Ukrainian armies had "gone over to the attack" after German forces under Field Marshal Ferdinand Schoerner and Col. Gen. Woelher disregarded the surrender terms and fought on.

Nazi Fleets Surrender

But elsewhere in Europe, the Germans were giving up to the Anglo-Americans. The miserable remnants of Germany's one-protector surface and underwater fleets surrendered while the British navy liberated England's own tiny channel islands and Dunkerque—scene of the war's greatest Allied defeat—also was freed.

In most former battle areas of the eastern front, the Germans appeared to be surrendering quietly to the Red army and the Soviet high command announced the capture of 209,060 German officers and men in preliminary checkups.

In Czechoslovakia, the Red army was making Schoerner's group "come to its senses," as Marshal Stalin promised in his victory address. One German group threatened with encirclement by Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian army had begun to surrender. Another force had taken to its heels and was fleeing southwest through a forty-two mile escape gap—presumably in hopes of surrendering to the American Third army.

Russians Closing Gap But the Russians rapidly were closing this gap between Prague and Caslav, forty-two miles to the east, and many thousand enemy troops faced entrapment in a 4,056-square mile pocket north, northeast and east of Prague, while south of the city the Germans kept open a corridor to American lines.

Announcing the Russian offensives, the Soviet command said that "German troops commanded by Field Marshal Schoerner, infringing the act of capitulation, refused to remain on the spot and lay down their arms."

The three armies were pressing into Bohemia from the northwest, east and southeast.

On the northwest, Konev's First Ukrainian, completely hurling the mountainous, marking the German-Czechoslovak frontier, advanced up to forty-seven miles along a 155-mile front, extending from Dobris, twenty-two miles southwest of liberated Prague to Ceska Skalice, seventy miles northeast of the Czechoslovak capital.

U. S. Films, Newspapers, Business Barred from Germany for Present

WASHINGTON, May 10. (P)—All publications, films and business enterprises from the United States and other countries will be barred from Germany indefinitely during military occupation, OWI Director Elmer Davis said today.

Allied armies of occupation will control all newspapers, other publications, films and radio enterprises which are permitted, he told a news conference.

Information sections of each occupying military government—United States, British, Russian and French—will publish a few newspapers, perhaps magazines and books, and will operate what remains of the German radio system.

In reply to a question, Davis said he believed the Russians had concurred in this policy.

The restricted news media policy was decided by the Allied military governments, Davis said, with OWI concurring.

He explained that "Germany is a sick man. He now can have only what the doctors prescribe. Later on, he will have a more ample diet."

The news the Germans get now will be the beginning of their re-education, Davis said.

In an earlier interview a reporter asked him why Allied officials were "afraid of giving entry to American newspapers."

Miles and Lane Are Considered For Governorship

Speaker Compares Steps in Building Peace to Building a Home

BAITIMORE, May 10 (AP)—Democratic party leaders said today they had been discussing gubernatorial candidates for next year's election in the belief that Governor O'Connor would not seek a third term, possibly because he may secure a place in the president's cabinet or a federal judgeship.

Outstanding among those being discussed is Hopper S. Miles, of Baltimore, formerly of Eastern Shore. Miles is now serving his third term as state treasurer.

W. Preston Lane, Democratic national committeeman for Maryland, also is being discussed for the nomination. A resident of Hagerstown, he is reported to have a strong following in the western counties.

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore for some time has been mentioned as a likely Republican candidate for the gubernatorial post. However, party leaders pointed out that McKeldin would be less effective or entirely ineffective if the governor was not his opponent and the Democratic nomination should go to a new and outstanding party figure.

400 Superforts Smash Japanese Industrial Areas
GUAM, Friday, May 11 (AP)—More than 400 giant Superforts packing an explosive wallop equal to the bomb damage of 1,000 Liberators spread wide destruction yesterday in the first heavy aerial attack on fuel, oil storage and manufacturing centers of Japan.

The record-breaking assault left smoke columns billowing more than 15,000 feet above ruins of fuel tanks and plants at Tokuyama and Otake, on southwestern Honshu Island, main unit of the Nipponese homeland chain.

Airfield Bombed
Flying through flak fields but meeting little fighter opposition, the B-29s also hit airfields on Shikoku and Kyushu islands, and Japan's biggest homeland oil storage center on Oshima Island, off the northwest tip of Kyushu.

All the targets were in the western areas around the Japan inland sea, requiring a round trip flight of more than 3,000 miles for the Superforts.

Superforts Attacked
Returning fliers said the Superforts in heading for one of the targets roared over a Japanese naval force which filled the sky with black ackack bursts, but none of the B-29s was seen to fall.

The raid was the first blast of the hurricane of bombing promised Japan by American war leaders, at the end of the German war.

The blow at Tokuyama took in the naval fueling station and a neighboring synthetic fuel factory. Domei, the Japanese news agency, estimated that yesterday's raid was made by approximately 300 Superforts, but the enemy propagandists have consistently minimized the striking forces in the American raids. It made no claims of planes shot down.

Three Red Army

Schoerner's groups, faced with the threat of encirclement in one of the Red army's feared "cauldrons" began to surrender in disorder and 35,000 enemy troops were taken prisoner Wednesday and Thursday.

At the same time, Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's Fourth Ukrainian army, plunging into Bohemia from the east, advanced up to fifty-seven miles in pursuit of retreating enemy troops, swept through fourteen towns and captured Caslav.

Below Yeremenko's army, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian group attacked troops under German Gen. Woehler who Moscow said "also violated the terms of capitulation and refused to lay down arms."

In Austria, Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army moved up squads occupied the towns of Waldhofen, Loeben and St. Michael and linked up with British Eighth army troops west of Graz. More than 23,000 German troops of Woehler's army group surrendered, Moscow said.

Lasting Peace Must Be Built, Hamilton Says

Speaker Compares Steps in Building Peace to Building a Home

A "lasting peace cannot be won, it must be built," Arthur B. Hamilton, agricultural economist of the University of Maryland, declared at the meeting sponsored by the County Council of Homemakers yesterday at the public library.

He pointed out that many conferences have been held in this direction and stressed the fact that they should not be considered as separate meetings, but instead, as parts of a systematic plan to build the peace.

He compared the steps in building the peace to building a home; when first there must be preliminary consideration of the problem, then the blueprints, in which he pointed out that one tries to work out one's ideas into the plan, realizing it will not be perfect, but remembering that in future years it might be necessary to remodel to meet changing times.

After the blueprint is decided upon, Mr. Hamilton said, the actual building can be constructed. The primary phases were held, he pointed out, at Bretton Woods, Hot Springs and Mexico City. The blueprint was drawn at Dumbarton Oaks, and the actual building of the organization for peace was reserved for San Francisco.

Lists Causes of War
The causes of war the speaker listed as want, caused by inability of nations to satisfy the needs of the people; fear of the future; oppression of nations or people; aggression by another nation; conditioning of people to want war; willingness and readiness to use war methods; striving for security; inability of nations to secure a portion of natural resources; and psychology of belonging to a super race of men, or being God's chosen people.

Taking each of the preliminary meetings separately, the speaker showed that the Bretton Woods conference produced two things; the international monetary fund to promote stability of exchange rates as an aid to world trade and the international bank for reconstruction and development to facilitate the flow of capital on long-term loans to war-torn and undeveloped countries.

At Hot Springs food production and needs were considered and it was agreed that the United Nations should work together in solving the problems of food and agriculture; at Mexico City the war-time collaboration of the twenty participating American republics for peace was reaffirmed.

Proposals for the international organization were submitted at the Dumbarton Oaks conference; and it was decided as each dispute arises it must be dealt with firmly and quickly and the well-being of all nations and peoples be promoted. Its basic principles, he listed, as maintaining peace only by nations banding together for that purpose; the employment of power justly and in unity by the great powers; to build peace, not only suppress war; and as peace becomes more secure, armament should be reduced.

Cites Organization Plan
The plan for the organization, he reminded his audience, includes a General Assembly of United Nations, an International Court of Justice and a Security Council. He also explained what it proposes to do, including encourages nations to cooperate; promote prosperity, advance special progress, foster freedom, co-ordinate international agencies, admit new members to the United Nations, make plans to control armaments, investigate disputes between nations, seeks peaceful settlements, decides on measures to keep peace, takes political and economic action and takes military action.

The San Francisco Conference is concerned with drafting a charter for world peace based on the Dumbarton Oaks principles and is to construct the building for peace.

Mrs. Edward Lewis, county president, presided and forty persons attended, and participated in the discussion following the talk.

Four Children Burn to Death
KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 10 (AP)—Four children, all under six years of age, were burned to death and two others are in critical condition as the result of a kerosene explosion at their home today.

While their mother was absent from the kitchen, one of the children placed a can of kerosene on the hot stove. The blinding explosion that followed scattered flaming liquid through the room, killing the children before the mother could reach them.

are retained because they are deemed necessary it was emphasized that "military necessity" does not mean "military convenience." The decision of a company or unit commander to retain a man will be subject to higher review. In the case of officers, the rating score will be secondary to needs of the army and even those officers declared surplus overseas may still be kept on duty by commanders of the army ground, air or service forces.

Secretary of War Stimson, in announcing the plan, said that it probably would not please everyone, but that the army considered it to be the fairest and best system that could be devised to meet the views of soldiers themselves.

The plan was adopted only after a poll showed that ninety per cent of the men interviewed favored such a plan, the army reported.

Ninety-eight per cent of those eligible for release will be men who have served overseas. The remaining two per cent will be fathers who have been in the army a long time.

Anton Mussert Jailed
Anton Mussert, leader of Holland's Nazis, was jailed at the Hague on treason charges for trial before Dutch jurists, and prisoner-of-war camps were being searched for other Dutch war criminals.

Armed Patriots stalked the streets of Oslo, rounding up Norwegian Nazis and hauling them off to jail to join Vidkun Quisling, the puppet premier.

Representatives of the United Nations War Crimes Commission have refused to comment on plans and procedure for trying the men accused as war criminals.

The source close to the commission said that Goering would be classed among those whom more than one nation wants to try.

It has been proposed that a high tribunal be formed to try such cases, and a decision was postponed until the next meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and Russia.

They since have come together at the San Francisco conference, but whether a decision was reached is not known here.

No Word about Hess
The status of Rudolf Hess, Hitler's old deputy who flew to Scotland four years ago today, remains in doubt. The War office said only that he was a prisoner of war.

The pooled dispatch from Berlin said the four charred bodies had been measured and photographed by experts, but the Russians were planning to believe that no body that could be identified beyond a shadow of doubt as that of Hitler ever would be found.

The Russians, the dispatch added, believe Hitler might have been killed beforehand by the people around him, but the flames of battle that swept the underground fortress in the heart of the city which Hitler made his headquarters probably destroyed all definite evidence forever.

Look to Ickes To Reopen Mines
WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis and anthracite operators, deadlocked today over underground travel time for hard coal miners, looked to Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes for a solution.

A conference between the United Mine Workers and producers negotiating committees and Ickes and his staff broke up late today with no further meetings scheduled and without a word of comment from any of the parties.

One official close to the situation said the negotiators were "hopelessly deadlocked."

Warplants dropped 300 tons of bombs in support of Luzon ground operations. A number of grounded planes were destroyed in the Cagayan valley, objective of the Yank campaign for the Balet pass on Northern Luzon.

Formosa was bombed anew despite adverse flying weather. The French Indo-China coast was hit by 120 tons of bombs concentrated on railroad and highway bridges.

A patrol boat and two freighters were sunk in the China Sea. Direct hits were scored on five freighters in East Indies waters.

Look to Ickes To Reopen Mines

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis and anthracite operators, deadlocked today over underground travel time for hard coal miners, looked to Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes for a solution.

A conference between the United Mine Workers and producers negotiating committees and Ickes and his staff broke up late today with no further meetings scheduled and without a word of comment from any of the parties.

One official close to the situation said the negotiators were "hopelessly deadlocked."

Ringling Brothers Have Small Fire
NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—A minor fire was discovered in an enclosed pipe shaft at Madison Square Garden today as the afternoon performance of Ringling brothers Barnum & Bailey circus was getting under way, but was extinguished quickly.

Only a handful of the 16,000 spectators in the arena were aware of the blaze.

Hitler a Genius, Kesselring Says
SAARFELDEN, Austria, May 10 (AP)—A staunch and unrepentant Nazi to the end, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring refused to admit today that Adolf Hitler was anything less than an absolute genius in the military arts.

The last German commander on the western front, a heavy-set man of 58, talked with apparent relief to correspondents in his special train in the Tyrolean Alps, where he was captured by American troops yesterday.

Kesselring, like former Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering whose surrender also was announced yesterday, expressed "absolute conviction" that Hitler was dead.

"To give justice to der fuhrer, I must say he was a genius in operations sense and conception," he said stoutly when Hitler's "intuitive" leadership was questioned.

"Sometimes, however, the ideas of genius are misunderstood," he added. "I only regret that der fuhrer had to direct Germany's military, political and economic life. He was overtaxed by the weight of his burdens."

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced today a check of twenty-five cities revealed that war bond redemptions since V-E day were lighter than in the period immediately preceding V-E day.

Eden Says Reds Hold Pole Chiefs
SAN FRANCISCO, May 10 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today the sixteen Polish leaders arrested by Russia included "nearly all the leading figures of the Polish underground movement."

Many of those arrested, he said, were persons the British thought should be included in a new, Democratic Warsaw government.

Speaking to a jam-packed news conference, Eden also reviewed the work of the United Nations toward creating a world security organization and predicted that the problem of iting in regional arrangements would be worked out, although "I don't yet see a solution."

He said that the solution should be built upon the principle that "regional pacts are extremely valuable in strengthening a world organization, but regional pacts can not replace it."

TO AMERICA'S FIGHTING SONS AND DAUGHTERS... ETERNAL GRATITUDE

With Victory in Europe comes a Challenge

From those who have served their country on far-off fields of combat, we have now received the first priceless gift of Victory... and with this Victory a challenge!

For from these men who have sacrificed so much—and from the other millions who have backed their efforts by carrying on so effectively their appointed tasks at home—comes the demand that total victory and final peace, through triumph over Japan, shall bring them the opportunities for which they fought and worked—the opportunities to live, progress and prosper.

Here is a challenge to us all—a challenge to see to it that the road to realization of these natural human ambitions runs smooth and straight.

We of General Motors believe that what is good for our country and our countrymen is good for General Motors; and that there are time-tried and unfailing guides upon which Americans can depend.

They can be described in terms of certain simple "articles of faith":

Faith in America and in America's future—a future of expanding, useful productivity and ever higher standards of living.

Faith in the rightness and benefits of individual freedom and individual enterprise.

Faith in the principle that there can be no rights without responsibilities—no privileges to enjoy without duties to perform.

Faith in work, as the forerunner of reward—in incentive, as the kindling spark of productive energy—in opportunity to serve a need, as the first requirement to provide a job.

Faith in the American way of doing things, by which each person, each organization, each industry, each business must take its place—and be granted that place—according to ability and capacity—in one great, coordinated, inter-gear system of living, working and contributing to the national welfare.

Faith in America's progressive instinct and in the things which serve it—science, research, engineering, technical knowledge and skill.

Faith in the rights of great and small alike—and of the importance of each in a free, peaceful and productive nation.

Before us lies one immediate, definite task—more important than all others—to defeat Japan.

With the first big obstacle to final victory removed—it is not too soon, we think, to face the challenge of that peace which our fighting men will have won so dearly.

We believe the principles which we have stated are those with which the challenge must be met.

We believe that if we follow these principles—with stout hearts and willing hands—America's future will inevitably bring better things for more people.

you insist—

Let's call it a condition of any illness is a luxury that a portable typewriter. Would it be possible for me to send it?

M. B. G.
If your son's address contains an A. P. O. number, it will be im-possible to send an overseas pack- age, as no such provision is made in army regulations. However, if his address is c-o fleet post Office, he may be able to make arrangements through his commanding officer to have an overseas package sent to him overseas.

About Victory Gardens

Dear Miss Fairfax:
The other day I heard a radio broadcast about a booklet giving in-structions to victory gardeners. I missed the address.

Can you tell me where to write for information regarding the plant- ing of victory gardens?

VICTORY GARDENER
The broadcast you heard in all probability was sent by the Depart- ment of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., as they do have free publica- tions about victory gardens.

The Superintendent of Docu- ments, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. will be glad to furnish you a booklet No. 538 en- titled "Growing Vegetables in Town and City" if you will send ten cents for a copy of same. They also have a booklet No. 526 on garden pests, which costs fifteen cents.

Sole Surviving Son

Dear Miss Fairfax:
I had three brothers in service—one was killed in action a year ago, and now another one has been re-ported missing in action. Would it be possible for my mother to have the third one returned to the United States? Whom shall she contact to have my brother brought back or put on non-combat duty?

(MRS.) C. E. M.

In order to have the sole surviving son returned to non-combat duty, your mother should write to The Adjutant General, Munitions Bldg., Washington 25, D. C. She should in-clude names of sons killed in action and missing, their army and navy serial numbers, full name and serial number of the sole surviving son, and a statement that the son in question is the sole surviving son.

Insurance in Merchant Marine

Dear Miss Fairfax:
What kind of insurance does a merchant marine carry, and does he pay for it? Also, is this insurance in force while he is signed off the ship?

MOTHER
Every merchant seaman's life is insured for $5,000 by the War Ship- ping Administration at no cost to him. The same policy covers in-juries. If a seaman should be inca-pacitated as a result of any of the causes insured against as risks of war, or other specified perils, he will receive: Free hospitalization and medical treatment; $100 per month while hospitalized; or $150 per month during any disability period—to continue so long as such periods last until a total of $5,000 has been paid. If the person is totally dis-abled, he will receive additional in- stalments in the amount of $2,500.

A seaman is not covered by this insurance after he signs off the ship in a continental United States port.

The Women Marines

Dear Miss Fairfax:
My daughter is in the women re-serves of the marine corps. She never went to college. Is it possible for her to become an officer with-out a college degree? Also, do the women marines serve overseas?

(MRS.) F. G.

The majority of promotions in the women's reserve of the marine corps are from the ranks. The promotions depend entirely on individual abil-ity and leadership. Therefore, it is possible for your daughter to be-come an officer, if she shows apti-tude.

The present law limits service in the women's reserve of the marine corps to the continental United States. If this law is changed there will probably be work overseas for a few women.

If you are in the service—army, navy, marine corps or coast guard—and you have a problem regarding insurance, allowances, allotments, maternity and infant care for wives and children, or desire the answer to any other service question, write to Beatrice Fairfax, care of this paper, this city. Bethlehem Plans Are Encouraging

ANNOUNCEMENT by E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, that it plans to carry on shipbuilding as well as steel production at Baltimore after the war is significant, not only with regard to Maryland's postwar industrial prospects, but also in a larger sense.

The contribution to Maryland industry will be important. It cannot be expected to come up to the tremendous production at Baltimore in the war effort, but its continuation will doubtless be substantial, and thus contribute measurably to the business progress of the state.

In the larger sense, the statement by Grace that the postwar construction program would embrace all types of ships to such an extent as to involve expansion of its present large plant, indicates assurance that commercial shipping will play a big part in the national economy.

A gratifying expansion of our foreign trade is to be stimulated, and also that navy requirements will be on a larger scale than before the war. It is the more impressive view of the fact that shipbuilding at Baltimore had to start from scratch in the war program.

All in all, Grace's statement betokens a hopeful industrial future for the state and the country.

An Important Step At San Francisco

ANOTHER IMPORTANT STEP FORWARD appears to have been taken by the San Francisco conference in the proposal sponsored by Senator Vandenberg to let the International Assembly recommend measures for "peaceful adjustment of any situation" likely to impair the welfare of friendly relations among nations.

Senator Vandenberg believes this is the most important thing in the whole world charter, and he has expressed elation over its probable adoption, which a conference committee approved overwhelmingly. No one was against the general principles, he said, and those not immediately approving it did so only because of opposition to some of the details.

The proposal had previously been approved by the four nations sponsoring the conference—China, Britain, Russia and the United States. This would "make the Assembly the town meeting of the world of tomorrow," Vandenberg said. "It creates a forum in which any problem involving general welfare and friendly relations among nations can be explored and recommendations made. Without it there would have been no provision for review of all the tremendous problems growing out of this war."

This exploration of such problems should be one of the cardinal principles of a world security organization for it would not only bring out the pertinent facts but also involve an appeal to world sentiment that should prove salutary in stabilizing world peace.

Tribute to Hospital System Is Fitting

WHILE special days and weeks of observances have come to be a pretty monotonous thing in this country, there are some which command support. For example, on May 24, the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale—who contributed to modern hospital science as she did to the nursing profession—the nation will pay homage to the hospitals that protect and maintain its health.

It will be well at least to consider on this occasion what our hospital system has given us in hope and effort. The 6,611 hospitals of the country treated 16,039,948 patients during 1944 an increase of almost a million patients over 1943. A baby was born in an American hospital every 16.4 seconds. One out of every eight Americans was treated by a hospital in this past year. And every one of us can expect to be a patient in a hospital one day for every year we live.

With 60,000 doctors, 54,000 nurses, thousands of trained technicians and administrative personnel absent with the armed forces, our hospitals have accomplished more than they ever did in their history—with a full complement of staff members and employees.

National Hospital day is a day on which the American people may well express their appreciation to the hospitals. But more than that—on National Hospital day all American men and women should be commended for it is they who have initiated and supported the community hospital that exemplifies the voluntary method of making better health available to all.

Dutch Demand Is Obviously Just

FOR THREE CENTURIES little Holland has been slowly forcing back the waters of the North sea. A third of that country's area is reclaimed land. It had not fully won its fight to lock out the sea when the war broke out. Germany occupied the country and then, as defeat came to the German army, resorted to typically German destructive tactics.

One fourth of the Netherlands—more than 3,000 square miles of the total of 12,862—now lies under the sea again, deliberately flooded by the Huns. To the very end, German troops, trapped in the fortified cities, continued to open more dikes and flood more land. Germany has been battered into ruins by bombs and shells. Yet grass and grain will grow again on German farms. But more than a fourth of the Netherlands' production area is gone—gone for perhaps centuries.

The scope of the tragedy can be gauged by the example of the last big dam built by the sturdy Dutch. It cost them $35,000,000 and they expected to spend $190,000,000 on drainage over the ensuing thirty years. All that is ruined today, as is most of the work that had gone before through the last three centuries. What faces the Dutch now is the problem of feeding their people.

Many Dutchmen are now demanding that Germany make some compensation for this tremendous loss by giving up West Frisia and a strip along the Dutch east border for the farmers whose own land now lies under the waters let in by the Nazis. It is difficult to find any objection to a demand so obviously just.

This Mistake Should Not Be Repeated

VAST STOCKS of Liberty motors left over from the last war strangled progress in plane engines for a decade. They were good engines and it seemed a shameful waste to throw them away. But the result was that the development of newer, better and more efficient motors was slowed down while the surplus remained.

It is heartening to know that the United States is not going to make the same mistake this time. At any rate, the country now has emphatic assurances to that effect from three men in a good position to do something about it.

According to former Senator Gillette, who is now chairman of the Surplus Property Board, some transport and training planes will be sold and others will be freely distributed to schools for classroom and laboratory work. But the remainder will be "unhesitatingly salvaged and scrapped."

From Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, comes another pledge. "I promise you," he said, "that if the War Department can help it there will be no such flood of obsolete materials as the flood of Liberty engines after the war." For the Navy, Undersecretary Bard has made the same good resolution.

This is the only sound policy to follow. And if the army, the navy and the Surplus Property Board are wise, they will be completely hard-boiled about it. Scrapping planes and engines which are still usable goes against the grain. But it would be false economy to hang on to them at the cost of slowing down air progress in this country for half a generation.

Lifetime Payment Faces Germans

IT WAS PREDICTED for years that some group, perhaps the generals, would take over in Germany before the Reich had reached its present depths and somehow manage a surrender. Actually some such movement was started last year. The generals knew that Germany was beaten when the Allies landed in France. Probably they tried to take Hitler's life, as the Nazis asserted. The plot failed. Hitler slew those he couldn't depend upon and the war raged on until one German army after another laid down its arms from sheer weariness and lack of supplies.

The Nazis undoubtedly had great disciplinary power over the German people. Yet it is strange that the plot of the generals last summer to dispatch Hitler and end the conflict was the only direct manifestation of Germany's war-weariness. It almost incomprehensible that among 80,000,000 people no effective protest could be stirred up. There were expectations in Allied circles that the country would become shot through and through with mutiny as the end neared, despite the best efforts of the Gestapo. Self-preservation is nature's first law, and surely the Germans knew that they had a better chance of survival by surrendering months ago. The Gestapo would have been powerless against wide opposition.

Now the war has dragged to the conclusion of utter German exhaustion. Tens of thousands of Allied and German lives have been sacrificed by stubborn German resistance beyond the point of hope. All Germans living today will pay during their entire lifetime for their sinfulness in the face of Nazi gangsterism.

The dimple, we read, is supposed to be a sign of intelligence. Who said beauty and brains did not mix?

Patriotic Italians kicked in the teeth of the "Doojays." There's an idea for the Japs.

SUNSHINE CHEER

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

We little realize how greatly we are influenced by those with whom we come in daily contact. We may loathe those who appear to us as chronic grouches and complainers—never satisfied with anyone or anything. But they influence us, just the same. They help to lower our morale.

On the contrary, those whom you run into from day to day, who always have a cheerful smile upon their faces, or who habitually glow from habit, affect you in just the opposite way—they lift you up. They are dealers in Sunshine Cheer.

I recall a doctor who used to come to our home when my mother was ill. He had hardly entered before he broke out in his familiar laugh over something, and my mother always said that his cheer amounted to far more than his pills. Which was undoubtedly true.

Upon my first visit to San Francisco I came out of my hotel, and the first man I met smilingly greeted me with a Good Morning. It came so unexpectedly that I wondered if it were someone I knew or a stranger. But, no, he was just a hand—met with Sunshine Cheer. I later learned that this was characteristic of Western folks. Advertising their Sunshine, you see. Well, anyway, ever since that simple incident I have loved California and the West. That's the way they do it there.

You can usually get a good idea of the health and prosperity of a town or city by taking a good walk down its main streets and studying the faces that you meet. A town or city reflects more in the faces of its citizens than it does in any other way.

There are those who think that they can make themselves look important and imbued with unusual power by keeping a look on their faces of supreme wisdom. But a face is naturally honest. It tells its story, no matter how they try to make it over. That's why it is so important to keep it wreathed in Sunshine Cheer. You'll be a self-appointed Ambassador of Good Will, no matter where you go.

Secretary Stettinius Gets Interesting List of Those Opposed to World Pact

By DREW PEARSON

SAN FRANCISCO.—Secretary of State Ed Stettinius has just received an interesting document from his undersecretary, Joe Grew, listing a variegated group of organizations trying to undermine the San Francisco conference. Bretton Woods and other steps toward international co-operation. The report was prepared by Louis M. Birkenhead, of the Friends of Democracy, who spent two hours with Grew, giving him a bill of particulars regarding the anti-peace agitators whom he described as having all the strength of the pre-Pearl Harbor isolationists with no Pearl Harbor ahead to shock us into unity.

The people who are now screaming, "Poor Poland," and "Poor Rumania," the report warns, are the ones who once insisted that Poland, Czechoslovakia and the rights of small nations were none of our business. When the Atlantic Charter was first proclaimed they called it a fraud, but today they shed tears over its "demise."

Chief Agitators

Here are the chief agitators against the San Francisco Conference and Bretton Woods, according to the Birkenhead Report:

Gerald L. K. Smith, one-time Huey Long lieutenant, leader of the America First Party—just arrived in San Francisco only to be barred by most hotels.

Elizabeth Dilling, long under indictment for sedition and even more active an isolationist than the Chicago Tribune.

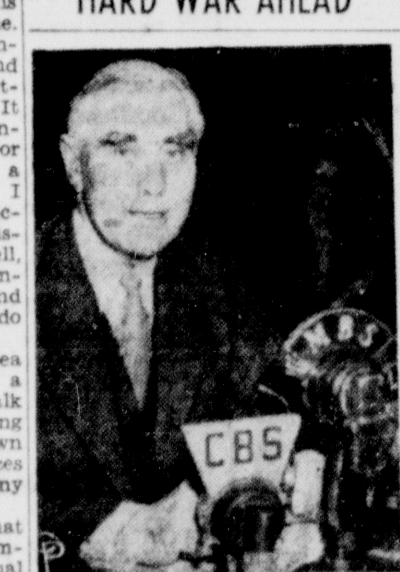

Ex-Senator Bob Reynolds, of North Carolina, son-in-law of Mrs. Evelyn "Hope Diamond" McLean, and who once edited a weekly magazine with reputed Fascist leanings.

Also Senator "Pass-the-Biscuits" Pappy O'Daniel, of Texas; Ex-Congressman Sam Pettengill, columnist for the Gannett Newspapers; Charles Hudson; Court Asher; John B. Trevor, of the American Coalition; Walter Steele, editor of the National Republic; The Brooklyn Tablet, New York Gaelic American, San Francisco Leader, and the Meriden, Conn., Mailist.

Samples of the propaganda—Ex-Senator Reynolds: "Bretton Woods is an insane plot for world government" sponsored by "international bankers." Mrs. Lyril Van Hynning: "We, the Mothers Mobilize for America," says of the San Francisco Conference: "Your son is to be a policeman. If you want to see your boy again, then speak out now or forever hold your peace."

The New York News: "San Francisco is as phony as a seven-dollar bill."

"HARD WAR AHEAD"

HAILING VICTORY in Europe as "a mighty accomplishment," Joseph C. Grew (above) warned of the hard task ahead to conquer Japan. He spoke on a V-E day radio program as acting secretary of state in Washington, but his warning was derived from intimate knowledge of the Japs as former United States ambassador in Tokyo.

bill. It has no concern with establishing a peace of justice.

"Arab Glamour"

Saudi Arabia, which supplies the chief glamour for San Francisco, has sent five of its top-drawer princes to represent the Arabs of South Arabia—all sons of Ibn Saud, the man from whom Roosevelt said he had learned more about the Jewish problem in five minutes than in weeks of correspondence.

Riding through San Francisco in limousines supplied by the Standard Oil Company, of California, and striding through hotel lobbies dressed in long-flowing burnouses, they are the chief visual attraction of the Conference. The other day as the five Arab princes walked past, a nearby lady remarked: "Oh, they're so fierce so romantic." In perfectly good English, one of the princes, scarcely turning his head, replied:

"Tsk, ts, you should see us on horses, my dear."

"Broadway and Royalty"

Fast-talking Walter Winchell, highest hooped news commentator on the air, went to call on gentle, slow-speaking British ambassador, the Earl of Halifax, a delegate at the San Francisco Fair.

His Lordship, who can trace his ancestry back five centuries and who has served as viceroy of India, minister of foreign affairs and minister of agriculture, asked polite and curious questions about Winchell's method of broadcasting.

"Do you ever get visitors?" questioned His Lordship, indicating that he might like to come and watch the mystical ceremony. "Oh no," shot back Winchell, "some nut might grab the microphone and yell in it at 27,000,000 people. Then where would I be?"

His dignified Lordship smiled, decided he would not risk the temptation of addressing Winchell's audience of 27,000,000.

Note—A radio audience is estimated at about one million listeners for every point of Hooper Rating, and Winchell's Hooper is 27.

"Discrimination at San Francisco" While San Francisco delegates attempted to build a framework to carry out the four freedoms of the Atlantic Charter, the minions of Music Dictator James C. Petrillo were denying the right of one of America's foremost negro singers to make music recordings if accompanied by a white pianist or any other white musicians.

The negro, Huddy Ledbetter, better known as "Lead Belly," is probably the nation's most outstanding folk singer, has made hundreds of recordings for the Library of Congress. But in San Francisco, Petrillo's Musician's Local Union 6 denied him the right to make recordings with three white musicians—Ellis Horne, Squire Girsbach and Paul Linke.

Ed Moore, vice president of Local 6, and Secretary Jack Hayward telephoned Petrillo in Chicago to ask whether Ledbetter could play with the three white musicians and get the word "No."

There has been a long standing rule in the San Francisco Bay area that negro musicians cannot play in public with whites. But Local 6 once before stretched this rule to discriminate against negroes even on private recordings where the public has no idea who the musicians are, and whether they are white or black.

The other notable case was that of 44-year-old Willie "Bunk" Johnson, legendary trumpet genius supposed to have been dead but discovered working in a cotton field. He was one of the inventors of jazz in New Orleans at the turn of the century, and the teacher of Louis Armstrong. Time Magazine devoted a whole music section to him but when brought to San Francisco by the Museum of Art, Bunk Johnson was forced to return East after Local 6 rules on its own interpretation of the four freedoms.

pendently everywhere. This immediately raised among the Latin-American states the question of the status of the Act of Chapultepec, which among other things requires action by any or all signatories against any aggressor inside or outside this hemisphere threatening any American state. The terms of this treaty are in conflict with the provisions of the Dumbarton Oaks plan, which says force cannot be invoked except by the Security Council, and, of course, Russia has a veto on that council. So Mr. Molotov, as matters stand now, has a veto on any military action inside this hemisphere and we have none insofar as the use of force under regional agreements or treaties in Europe is concerned.

Policy Outside Sought

President Truman has been asked by the American delegation to guide them in formulating our policy. Shall we insist on a right to a voice in Europe because we have already granted Russia and other countries a voice in the affairs of this hemisphere? Or should we postpone the whole issue by merely stating, as did Russian, that all these special treaties, including the Act of Chapultepec, should remain in force until such time as the governments concerned felt that the international security organization was really in a position to undertake the accomplishment of the tasks of preventing aggression laid down in these treaties?

This is not a permanent solution at all, but it may be adopted as one means of deferring until a later international conference the question of how peace is to be enforced.

Babson Sees Big Lesson To Learn About Education

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 10.—We shall be passing up vast opportunities for national advancement if we now fail to capitalize our recent lessons on how to educate. I mean the lessons which have been taught to us by the new technique of training men and women for war.

It is true that civilian education is aimed at peaceful objectives. As commonly practiced, the most popular courses are the so-called "outside activities," although most of them are non-educational. I refer to jitter-bugging, juke-boxing and those graver pastimes which may not be immoral, but surely are a facsimile thereof. In military training, the purpose is "How to win and come back alive." Nevertheless, the two educations (civilian and military) can be alike in attitude, even if unlike in subject matter.

The famed super-speed and ultra-efficiency of military training are not to be explained by mere mechanical methods alone. Stroboscopic or slow-motion pictures, models in miniature, high-pressure coaching, pocket-size texts, these modern boosters are worthy of attention by every school committee. The inner difference, however, which puts army and navy training long miles ahead of our horse-drawn public schools—is the superior build-up of educational attitude.

Raising The Mental Age

In the schooling of the armed forces, both trainers and trainees are consciously dealing in life and death. However immature in years, the servicemen are quick to feel the adult attitude of those who learn their lessons "under live ammunition." This "adult attitude," this precocity of maturity, is what makes military instruction click and tick. Our public schools should duplicate, in peacetime, this wartime attitude to raise the mental age.

When we extend the range of education to cover maturity, we automatically increase the power of education and tap its unexplored and undreamed possibilities. The surest way to raise the standard of living and true security is to raise the average "mental age" of the population. Hence, another way to raise this average mental age is to encourage adult education. This requires supplementing our present public school system with new adult educational systems.

School System Needs Reformation

Our school system in the juvenile branches offers alluring possibilities of reformation. Speaking brutally, but realistically, most of today's schools—under the joint influence of hardheaded politicians, soft-headed sentimentalists and empty-headed persons—are a mess. That the

There's no use either in giving countenance to the silly talk of a possible clash some day with Soviet Russia. Such a suspicion wholly misconstrues what has happened in San Francisco. For Russia really wants peace. The last thing in the world she wants is any conflict with the United States. Her position is plainly one of isolation and intense nationalism, and in that respect her evolution has reached the point where the United States was in 1920.

It took twenty-five years to change America's thinking. Perhaps Russia's may be changed sooner by moral suasion and debate.

At first, officials here were bewildered by the Russian technique and tactics in the conference. Now there is no longer any bewilderment. For Russia has made it clear through Mr. Molotov that she has no intention to allow any limitations on her sovereignty. She regards her bilateral treaty with France and her treaty with Czechoslovakia as meaning that these countries have the right to join with her at any time to renew the war against the present enemy states.

Others Frankly Invited

Russia, on the other hand, frankly invites all other countries to make similar treaties of alliance. The United States and Russia thus could make one and the United States and Britain could do likewise. This merely means that Russia thinks each nation should have a free hand to ignore the international security organization if that course seems desirable in dealing with a resurgent Germany, or with activities in neighboring countries that are distasteful to Russia and presumably helpful to Germany.

The moment these special treaties were excluded from the Security Council's jurisdiction, the way was opened for special alliances and regional agreements to operate indeschool certificates of graduates are traditionally engrossed on the skin of the sheep engrossing fitting when we look up the I. Q. of this self-regimented animal!

Yet, unfortunately is the fate of those of us who seek to reform the schools. The prospective controversy resistance, obstruction and reaction are shocking to behold. The possibilities of reform are alluring, but the path of reform is appalling. It may be better to leave the schools to stew in their own juice for a while longer and turn attention to development of adult education. But I will say more about adult education next week.

Importance of Adult Education

In countless camps all over the world, it has been demonstrated that boys and girls become men and women most promptly and most surely when the mark of an educated man or woman is not a diploma for a dogtag, but a sense of the schools to stew in their own juice for a while longer and turn attention to development of adult education. But I will say more about adult education next week.

Yes, the double failure of the antiquated public school system is that it results in delayed maturity of the virtues, while prompting precocity in the vices. If it is hopeless to re-organize the schools there is high hope to organize adult education. It could, it might, it may become America's outstanding contribution to world security. Surely, we can educate for life as efficiently as we educate for death.

Burns Are Fatal To Somerset Man

CONFLUENCE, Pa., May 10. — A resident of Upper Turkeyfoot Township, Somerset County, near Markleton, Charles W. Snyder, 73, was burned to death and his wife sustained severe burns when fire swept through the bedroom of their home recently.

The wife, Mrs. Elta Snyder, 69, was awakened by the smell of smoke and found the bedroom aflame. The woman attempted to lead her husband to safety but Mr. Snyder, who had been confined to his bed by illness for several weeks, collapsed at the door. Meanwhile, neighbors reached the scene and removed Mrs. Snyder from the room through a window.

The body of Mr. Snyder, badly burned, was removed a few minutes later. Deputy Coroner C. S. Beck of Rockwood, said the man had apparently been overcome by the smoke and was unable to escape with his wife.

A bucket brigade was formed and the blaze, caused by an overheated stove pipe which led to the bedroom from a downstairs stove, was brought under control before spreading throughout the house.

A native and lifelong resident of Somerset County, Mr. Snyder was born in Upper Turkeyfoot Township, Oct. 10, 1871, a son of Benjamin and Anna (Griffith) Snyder. He had operated a farm for many years.

Besides his widow, he leaves a number of children including Mrs. Louella Zimmerman, Raymond Snyder and Mrs. Geary, all of Markleton, R. D.

The art of enamelling originated in Western Asia.

To cap that, defeat of Japanese efforts to reach and overrun the Chihkiang air base in Western Hunan had broken the whole enemy front in that sector, Chungking announced. An enemy collapse at that point would be critical. Just east of the indicated line of Chinese advance lies the prime bottleneck of the Japanese China - Indo China corridor. It is highly significant in that connection that first echelon of Allied forces released in Europe to be moved out are ground and sup- ply troops, many of them heading

Fort Hill Juniors Present Assembly For Senior Class

The Fort Hill Junior Class presented a farewell assembly to seniors in the school auditorium yesterday morning. This is an annual program given each year by the junior class as a means of saying farewell to the seniors who will soon receive their diplomas.

The program was written and directed by a junior, Beatrice Linn, and supervised by the class adviser, Mrs. John W. Dietz. It was in form and divided into four acts.

The assembly opened with Harold Bishop leading the school in the salute to the flag and in the students' creed. Miss Dorothy Seebree led the singing of the national anthem. Billy Jean Robinson read the Scripture.

The first act of the program was a take-off of the well known radio program, "Hildegard in the Raleigh Room." Frances Light acted as announcer; and Betty May, as mistress of ceremonies, portrayed Hildegard, calling upon celebrities of radio and stage to entertain. Jeanine Moler portrayed Hazel Scott, well known colored pianist. Shirley Turner acted as Diana Shore and dedicated her song, "Sentimental Journey," to a former Fort Hill graduate, Pric Stanley O. Hamilton. Mr. William Clark, Paul Davis, and William Kerns were presented as the Andrews Sisters singing "One Meat Ball." Perry Como was portrayed by Vernon Beall. The Mad Russian, a famous comedian, was enacted by Leroy Duffy and Robert Heisey appeared as Turb.

Act two was entitled "Class Day Cartoons." This was a picturization of the seniors as the juniors see them. Approximately fifteen juniors participated in this act.

The stage took on the appearance of an old dark cave for the third act. A boiling pot, surrounded by witches, was over a fire in the center of the stage. One by one certain seniors were forced up on the stage by several junior boys who acted as slave drivers. The characteristics and traits of these seniors were criticized and flung into the boiling pot to be destroyed.

The last act was the portrayal of a fairy gathering. Anne Murray, acting as fairy god-mother, floated down to the stage to direct her children in presenting gifts to designated seniors.

Approximately forty juniors participated in the assembly.

World Co-operation Of Churches Is Discussed

At an interdenominational meeting of Cumberland church women held in Emmanuel Episcopal parish house earlier in the week, the Rev. Willis R. Ford, Baltimore, executive secretary of the Council of Churches and Christian Education of Maryland and Delaware, spoke on the need for unity of the churches in each community.

He stressed that as a result of the common difficulties and perils during the war many of the barriers between religious groups have been broken down and that now as never before the opportunity presents itself for the Ecumenical movement to be fostered and to make sure that this newly found fellowship shall be built to include churchmen of the entire world.

The first step in the realization of this ideal must be co-operation between the churches in the local areas. The Rev. Mr. Ford also reviewed the work of the national council which started 100 years ago.

Mrs. Thomas LeClear introduced the speaker and Mrs. John Bestwick presided and welcomed the group. The response was made by Mrs. John S. Cook, president of the Council of Church Women. Mrs. G. Wilbur Seymour conducted the devotionals.

Local Yanks Keeping Sunday Engagements

Four local servicemen, in neighboring outfits in the Marianas Islands, used to swap talk on Sunday afternoons around a Cumberland motorcycle garage and they are still keeping their Sabbath engagements under Pacific skies.

The quartet of Pfc. Paul F. Brinkman, Pfc. James H. Wright, Pfc. James Webster and Pfc. Loring Smith reports life isn't too tough in the Marianas now that Uncle Sam has taken over the islands. The natives are happy over the Americans' return, they say, even though their homes were wiped out during the re-conquest of the islands.

Pfc. Brinkman is the son of Mrs. Mary Brinkman, 1211 East Oldtown road, whose son, Pvt. Dorn Brinkman, was killed May 13, 1943, in North Africa.

Duplicate League To Give Dinner

Keight, with 154 points; and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cramer, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hunter came in third with 148 points.

Other teams according to their place were Mr. and Mrs. George Ward and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McGreavy and Mrs. Emma Everstine and Miss Louise Zihlman; Mr. and Mrs. E. Taylor Brown and Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Trimmer; Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wallis.

Cpl. Jack McElfish's Unit Wins Commendation

Cpl. Jack McElfish, son of Mrs. Florence McElfish, Route 5, is a member of the Five Hundred and Ninety-fourth engineer boat and shore regiment recently commended for its work in the invasion of Luzon island by Major O. W. Griswold, of the Fourteenth army corps. Major Griswold's commendation pointed out that McElfish's unit established installations ashore prepared supply dumps and supervised the unloading and movement of supplies from the beaches although handicapped by heavy seas and high surf.

Cpl. McElfish wears four campaign stars. He has a brother and sister in uniform—Cpl. Bobby McElfish, fighting with the First marine division on Okinawa, and Betty McElfish, SK, 2-c, with WAVES at Bainbridge.

MONTHLY WASTEPAPER COLLECTION WILL BE HELD MAY 21 TO 25

The regular monthly wastepaper collection drive for Cumberland and vicinity will be conducted May 21 through May 25, it was announced yesterday by Emmett A. Dougherty, collector in charge.

On the opening day the canvas will include Corriganville, Baltimore pike, Bowman's Addition, Locust Grove, Bedford road, LaVale, Bowling Green and Potomac Heights.

Dougherty said the collection is being set ahead of the final week in the month so as not to conflict with Memorial day.

The collector pointed out that paper is still on the "critical list" and the end of the war in Europe has failed to relieve the paper shortage in this country. He urges all residents of the area to co-operate in making the drive a success. House-to-house collections since the first of the year have netted an average of forty tons monthly.

Landlords Must File Report when Property Changes Ownership

Landlords in Maryland must file a special report with the OPA rent office by May 31, 1945, when there has been a change in ownership between the date rent control went into effect and May 5, 1945, according to Lucien E. D. Gaudreau, OI state rent director. This report is required under a recent amendment to the rent regulations.

"If there has been a change in the ownership of a housing unit since the effective date of rent control and before May 5, 1945, the present owner is required to report such changes on form D-61 on or before May 31, 1945. When a change occurs on or after May 5, 1945, the new landlord must file a notice within 10 days after the change," Gaudreau explained.

New owners must file a separate form for each housing unit. However, to simplify the procedure for landlords of apartment buildings or large projects under one management, the OPA will accept a single report with a list attached of addresses, tenants and rents charged. For hotels and rooming houses, only a schedule of addresses is necessary. In filling out the form, the name of the present tenant and the amount of rent collected must be given, as well as the change of date of ownership. Landlords must also list any change in services or changes to the living quarters made since the housing unit was registered.

Rent control went into effect in Allegany county on April 1, 1945.

MP's Will Don Sun Tans Today

Members of the local military police detail have been ordered to change to summer uniforms beginning today. Staff Sgt. Harold Fleming announced last evening.

Since such orders are usually uniform, it was presumed here that all troops of the Third Service Command will be affected by the order to change to "sun tans."

O'Rourke Twins Are Home From Italy On Furloughs

Tech. Sgt. James T. O'Rourke and Sgt. Michael J. O'Rourke, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. O'Rourke, Mt. Savage, arrived home Wednesday night on forty-five day furloughs after serving twenty-seven months in North Africa and Italy with Allied Forces Headquarters. They flew from Italy to Miami, Fla., where they landed Sunday morning and then went to Port George, G. Meade by train.

Michael, a former Cumberland News correspondent at Mt. Savage, enlisted in the army in January 1941 and James enlisted in March 1941. They have been together throughout their army career and will join their unit in Italy, or wherever it is stationed, at the end of their furloughs. They were stationed in Baltimore with the Third Service Command for more than a year after entering the army and also served at Bolling field and Fort Meade before going overseas in March 1943.

James is administration chief clerk and Michael is with a machine records unit. Among the places they visited in Italy were Rome and Naples.

LISTEN, WORLD!
—By Elsie Robinson

Queer thing— isn't it—that you can't get along?

Sometimes, lately, you've begun to feel that Fate is picking on you. . . stacking the cards against you, just for spite. Else why should you lose one friend after another—one job after another? Why should everyone seem to feel a little uncomfortable when you're around?

half as capable as you. What have they got that you haven't? Why do they get the breaks when you don't? What's the answer?
The answer's plain—plain to everyone but you, partner. It's simply this—
You can't get along—you don't get along—because you've never worked the "bugs" out of your system.

Now wait! Cool off before you holler! I'm not insulting you—I don't mean the usual kind of "bugs"—fleas and spiders, lice and ticks. I'm referring to something that spoils more lives and wastes more time effort than any insect that ever was hatched . . . the "bugs" in human nature.

Ever see the auto experts give a work-out to a new car model? Funny thing about new cars—they're all different. They may be like in theory, like as pets and sleek as silk when they leave the assembly line. But, somehow, somewhere, there's a hitch in them. Some hidden, unsuspected flaw that will spell grief unless it's eliminated. That's the reason why each one is given plenty of tests to "get the bugs out of its system," for until its particular and peculiar quirks are eliminated it can't meet the standard—it can't fill the job.

Ever stop to figure, partner, that we human folk have bugs just like cars. Little hidden quirks and tangles that ball up our action too? Bugs that keep us on the sidelines, try as we may to get into the Big Game. Unrecognized flaws that spoil our record even though, in many ways, we deliver the goods.

everyone who seeks your aid. But though you have the brain of a genius you will be a lonely, pesty flop unless and until you "work the bugs out of your system."

For the greatest test of any human being is his ability to get along with the rest of his kind. The noblest contribution we can possibly make during this life is not material service, however skillful it may be, but the simple gift of a friendly and flexible spirit.

So if you're not getting along, here's a hint. Stop punning wreaths on yourself or spilling tears over yourself or blaming the other fellow. Just do a little self-analysis . . . and get the bugs out of your own system.

P.S.—Golly, how I wish I could follow my own advice! Bugs? I've got 'em in hives.

306 MORE YEARS of SAFE DRIVING
By 35 BLUE RIDGE BUS DRIVERS

No General pins the safe driving emblem on the cap of a blue Ridge driver, but it is none the less a hard earned symbol of homefront, wartime achievement to be worn with rightful pride. Hundreds of Wounded Veterans Find Learning To Paint Enjoyable Pastime

Art Enables Men To Reveal Their Hidden Talents

By VICTOR GUNSON
Central Press Correspondent

VAN NUYS, Cal.—More than 300 war-wounded soldiers are learning with enthusiasm in the Army's Birmingham General hospital that art is something more than the pin-up pictures with which they plastered the walls of their overseas quarters.

Battle-scarred veterans, seeking a new interest in life, have gone in for painting, drawing, ceramics and sculpturing in such a big way that art classes have become a vital factor in the hospital's reconditioning program.

Men who never before had held a brush or a crayon in hand now are learning the fundamentals of line and color, posing for their own portraits and even attending art exhibitions—when they are well enough to go down to Los Angeles or Hollywood.

The whole idea originated last July with Sgt. William Willard, former Hollywood painter and sculptor, who is stationed at the hospital. Much to the surprise of everyone, the idea caught on quickly, but that may have been due to the fact that the first model was Movie Star Jinx Falkenberg, one of the screen's most shapely misses and a great favorite with the soldiers.

Not only was she a frequent visitor to the classes, but other actresses and famous models posed for the men as well, including Marguerite Chapman, Eileen McClory, Karen X. Gaylord, Chill Williams and Dusty Anderson.

As interest grew, the arts and skills branches of the Red Cross began aiding with materials easels and drawing boards—and special equipment for bed patients. Classes were arranged on Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Many Famous Teachers

Alexander Brook was the first guest teacher, but he has since been joined by more than a dozen prominent portrait painters, cartoonists and commercial artists, including Edward Biberman, Clement Willencheik, Edward Kaminski and Dolya Goutman.

The 29-year-old Goutman is one of the happiest about his tasks. "These men, like virtually all human beings, have always had the desire to express themselves artistically, but the false doctrine that art was for 'sissies' or the so-called intellectual class, kept them from enjoying such a hobby in childhood," he says.

"We have been successful in breaking down that theory and proving that every man, regardless of his station in life, can and should allow himself complete freedom in artistic creation. It has opened up a new world for these men."

Those in charge of the classes say that by having the finest artists work with the soldiers in the classroom and wards, as well as teaching the foundations of art, patients get inspiration to follow through with their work—even if only as a hobby in later civilian life.

Patients work in charcoal, watercolor, pastels and oils. Some very interesting work has developed in the finger-painting technique, and some of the more venturesome students have combined several mediums with startling results.

So discharged patients may keep up their interest as well as their instruction, a Los Angeles art school now teaches them free.

Clara Grossman, operator of the American Contemporary Galleries, is getting together material from the patients for a show at the gallery.

Recently a big Los Angeles department store sponsored a War Bond poster contest for the patients, with 15 entering. The winner, a recently discharged veteran of five Pacific campaigns, won and received a $100 War Bond.

House Wants Voice
In Treaty Making

WASHINGTON, May 10 (P)—The House of Representatives has emphatically asserted its belief it should have an equal voice with the Senate in making treaties.

It passed, by a roll-call vote of 293 to 88, a resolution submitting to the states a constitutional amendment requiring ratification of treaties by a majority vote of both the Senate and the House.

The constitution now provides for treaty ratification by a two-thirds vote of the Senate, with the House having no voice at all.

There were indications, though, that the House action may be futile, since the Senate Judiciary committee, which will receive the legislation, already has announced it will not consider any constitutional amendment proposals until after the war.

Two thirds of the forty-two Pennsylvania police chiefs polled in a recent survey prefer the two-man rather than the one-man patrol car for police duty, the American Municipal Association reports.

The lights are stronger than they were before.

More than $4,827,000,000 of public works have been proposed for post-war construction in California by federal, state and local governments, the American Municipal Association reports.

There are approximately 600,000 workers employed in construction, as compared with 2,200,000 in 1941.

Privateer, Navy's New Patrol Bomber, Deadly Lone Wolf of Sky, Japs Find

BIG BRUTE — Sea-going sister of the Liberator, is the new land-based Navy patrol bomber—the Consolidated Vultee PB4Y-2 Privateer.

By HAROLD KEEN
Central Press Correspondent
SAN DIEGO, Cal.—To the feared family of Navy long-range patrol bombers—those hard-hitting, far-reaching reconnaissance planes which have detected virtually every major move of the Japanese fleet since Pearl Harbor—has been added a new member.

Early in World War II, the navy's "eyes" were the "ugly duckling" two-engine Consolidated Catalinas, which despite their relatively low speed and vulnerability to enemy fighters performed brilliantly in search and transport, as well as on bombing missions.

These were reinforced by other float planes—another two-engine type, the larger, twin-ruddered Martin Mariner, and by the four-engine sky leviathan, the Consolidated Vultee Coronado. Then came the land-based navy Liberator, similar to the noted army four-engine bomber which has devastated enemy-occupied lands.

Deadly Patrol Bomber
Latest arrival in the family of patrol bombers is the deadliest, specifically designed for double missions of detection and bombardment. It is the Consolidated Vultee PB4Y-2 Privateer, now spanning trackless wastes of the Pacific, relentlessly hunting the enemy on the surface and in the air, and searching for American flyers downed at sea.

For more than a year the Privateer has been in production here, and the navy has just let a new $40,000,000 contract that will carry work well into 1946.

However, not until recently has the navy lifted the lid of secrecy from this new model. For only a short time ago was this craft "compromised" by the Japs with general information gained by the enemy through combat contacts, the navy felt safe to reveal its existence to the American public.

Here is a plane able to take better care of itself than any bomber this side of a Superfortress. When a Privateer goes on its search mission, it travels singly, unescorted by fighters.

The Privateer depends entirely on its own fire power for protection in event of enemy interception. And the Japs by now have learned that this mightily armed bomber, with its six power turrets, each containing two 50-caliber machine guns, can cope with as many as a dozen interceptor aircraft.

Two side waist gun blisters, not present even in the potent Liberator, help account for the surprising reception given unwary Jap fighter planes in the Pacific. Although navy and convair engineers began with the basic design of the Liberator in evolving the Privateer, the only major similarities remaining are the long, narrow Davis high-lift wing and the tricycle landing gear. And even the latter uses different tires than does the Liberator.

Most striking contrast is the huge single-rudder tail assembly (the Lib has two rudders). This dorsal fin rises more than twenty-six feet from the ground, and Navy airmen contend that there are numerous advantages to the single tail-increased stability, greater ease in handling controls, less weight in the tail assembly permitting increased range (more than 3,000 miles) and speed.

Another immediately apparent difference is the portion of the fuselage forward of the wing. The Privateer is considerably longer than the Liberator, and the reason is needed space for new radio and detection equipment which can see through clouds and darkness.

To provide the greatest possible range, enabling the plane to remain in the air as long as twenty hours without refueling, the bomb bays were redesigned to hold several combinations of auxiliary fuel tanks, bombs and depth charges, depending on the mission.

One of the bays has been converted into a tremendous camera rack, where four cameras are installed in tandem to furnish precious pictorial evidence so necessary in plotting action against the enemy.

Sights Do Thinking

Unlike the Liberator, the Privateer has no superchargers. Its pilots are not interested in attaining extreme high altitudes. They want to get as low as is reasonably safe to accomplish the maximum observation, whether it is of a large Japanese task force or of a lone American pilot on a life raft.

Marvelous new sights in the turrets do all the thinking for the gunners, who no longer have to "lead" enemy planes when firing. They merely set the cross-hair right on the Jap interceptor, "tell" the sight details of altitude, speed, etc., and the mechanical genius directs the firing with amazing accuracy.

Not only are there ample conveniences for the eleven-men crew (two of whom are required to operate the radio and detection equipment), but they are protected with armor plate that weighs only eight pounds less than a ton.

The Privateer contains improved "ditching" equipment, extremely important for a land plane that operates over water at least ninety per cent of the time.

With carrying capacity of 6,000 pounds, the PB4Y-2 is designed to hold thirty different types of bombs, twelve more than the Liberator.

Pilots of Privateers now in action may well strive to emulate the record set by a unit flying the most immediate predecessor type, the PB4Y-1 navy Liberator.

This illustrious squadron known as the "Reluctant Raiders" and commanded by Comdr. Norman M. (Bud) Miller, legendary "one-man task force," sent forty-three ships to the bottom, damaged ninety-one others, made 352 bombings and strafing attacks on enemy bases from the Gilberts to within 600 miles of Tokyo.

All this was done in seven and a half months by planes which were primarily on search missions. It is a creditable goal for even the more potent Privateers.

50,000 Counterfeit Red Points Seized

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Birkett Williams, OPA regional administrator in Cleveland, Ohio, reported to the House Food committee today the seizure of 50,000 counterfeit red points which he said were held by five Cleveland meat dealers.

Chairman Anderson (D-NM) said the counterfeits were turned up in OPA's investigation of the dealings of slaughtermen in the Cleveland area whose business was declared by the Food committee to have skyrocketed during the current meat shortage.

Anderson told reporters the false ration currency undoubtedly was used to cover up dealings in black market meat.

Take the case of John. He'd get up in the morning grouchy, half asleep. He'd snap at his wife, grumble through breakfast and slouch as his job all day. And his wife couldn't coax him out for a bit of fun in the evening. He was too tired.

John doesn't need a doctor to diagnose his trouble. It's not how long you sleep but how well that counts. To relief that tired feeling, that bad case of grouch in the morning, that aching back — RENEW YOUR MATTRESS.

GOOD EGGS

EGG CLUB SANDWICH . . . high protein meat substitute.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

The peak of egg production is with us right now. Furthermore, shortage of meat makes it even more important than usual to make use of eggs as a substitute high in protein value, absolutely without waste, and capable of being turned into an enormous variety of dishes.

Lily Haxworth Wallace, author of several good cookbooks, has just turned out a new, timely one called "Egg Cookery" (Barrows—$2). It offers information on nutritive value, selection, storage and home preservation of eggs. In addition the book contains twenty short chapters on various ways to cook eggs. The recipes are sound and clearly written and the book should be most helpful to any cook, particularly in these times. Following are a few of its recipes.

Poached Eggs Virginia Style

- 1 cup diced cooked chicken
- 1/2 cup diced cooked ham
- 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
- Slight grating lemon rind
- Salt and pepper
- 4 corn fritters
- 4 poached eggs
- Paprika and parsley

Heat chicken and ham in sauce, adding lemon rind and seasoning. Have corn fritters piping hot, put a generous spoonful of mixture on each, and top with a poached egg. Dust with paprika and garnish with parsley.

Deviled Eggs With Shrimp Hollandaise

- 4 hard-cooked eggs
- 3 tablespoons cream
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 teaspoon grated onion
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Dash of cayenne
- Waffles
- 1 cup Mock Hollandaise Sauce
- 1/2 cup cooked or canned shrimp, minced

Halve eggs lengthwise. Press yolks through a sieve, add cream, flavorings, and seasonings, and use mixture to refill egg white cavities.

LEM FOR LEMON PIE
The only pie filling with the full egg yolk content.

THE MORRISON COMPANY, Phila.

Place on sections of baked waffles, pouring over each a spoonful of hot sauce into which shrimp have been stirred.

Egg Club Sandwich (Individual)

- 3 slices buttered toast
- 1 tablespoon minced stuffed olives
- French dressing
- 2 slices tomato
- 1 crushed hard-cooked egg
- 2 slices crisp-cooked bacon
- Salt and pepper
- Whole stuffed olive
- 1 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Place one slice of buttered toast on a serving plate. On this, arrange lettuce dipped in French dressing and cover with the egg, seasoned, moistened with mayonnaise, and blended with the minced olives. Next, is a second slice of toast and for its filling a second marinated lettuce leaf, then marinated sliced tomato topped by crisp bacon, and then the final slice of toast. Garnish with a whole stuffed olive.

Flaming Brandied Apricot Omelet

Spread Puffy Omelet (recipe for this is in the book) with one-half cup apricot preserves or rich apricot jam, with which a tablespoon of brandy has been blended. Just as it goes to the table, dust with sugar, pour two tablespoons brandy over, and set afire.

Prevent curdling in scalloped dishes by making white sauce before combining it with the other ingredients.

Cabbage, cauliflower and kohlrabi are often best cooked in half milk, half water with the liquid used for white sauce.

If you can't purchase sour cream, use a teaspoonful of lemon juice or good vinegar to a cup of evaporated milk.

Two or three slices of stale bread wrapped in cheesecloth placed over cabbage while cooking will remove kitchen odor.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTETH at any drug store.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, get-up-up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out the poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Congressmen Ask Death for Nazi War Criminals

WASHINGTON, May 10 (P) — A harsh peace for Germany and death to Gestapo agents and storm troopers are recommendations of congressmen just returned from viewing German concentration camps and devastated battle areas.

The twelve-man delegation, which made the tour at the invitation of General Eisenhower, told War Secretary Stimson and General Marshall what they had seen in an hour and a half conference here.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) told reporters the group had nothing to say about the War department conversation in advance of a report to Congress, but several made known their personal feelings.

Asks Harsh Terms

Rep. Izac (D-Calif.), a prisoner of Germany and a winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor in the First World War, told reporters he is convinced that the German people must be subjected to harsh terms or they may decide "war is a good thing after all."

The Californian advocated taking away goods and properties of the Germans and distributing them to the peoples whose farms and homes were stripped by the Nazi armies.

Americans must look on German prison camps as evidence of how ruthless their enemy in the next war may be, declared Rep. Mott (R-Ore.).

Prison Camps Brutal

"The prison camp system unquestionably was a carefully organized scheme to exterminate all enemies of Nazism," he told a reporter.

Allied nations should permit the German people to "suffer just a little" and the German Gestapo and storm troopers should be executed for indescribable atrocities, said Rep. Short (R-Mo.).

"Germany's misery has just begun," Short told a reporter. "She has been living off the loot of other nations up to now. Some 30,000,000

Germans have been blasted out of their homes and are wandering nomads.

"But after you see all of the suffering and misery you don't waste any sympathy on them. I'm in favor of letting them suffer just a little."

In 1930, there were almost 14,000,000 foreign-born white persons in the United States; in 1940, the number had decreased to less than 12,000,000.

No More German Prisoners Will Be Shipped to U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (P) — The shipment of German prisoners of war from Europe to the United States stopped on Monday.

In reporting this today, General Breton Somervell, chief of army service forces, also said that the War department had asked General Eisenhower to make arrangements for returning Axis prisoners to Europe.

He said the army desired to move them out as fast as possible, although he noted that a number of them were employed on farms and that some arrangement would have to be made in this connection. He added, however, that "we don't want to keep any Germans on any jobs that American workmen want."

Italian service units, composed of former Italian prisoners of war who volunteered for non-combat work to aid the Allied war effort, will be given priority in the transfer of prisoners, Somervell said.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, the liquid assets of individuals, including unincorporated businesses, totaled $50,000,000,000.

The United States Employment Service has 1,500 local offices.

72,000 Miners Held Ineligible To Draw Any Compensation

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 10 (P) — Pennsylvania's approximately 72,000 anthracite miners were declared ineligible today for unemployment compensation benefits during the current work holiday.

William H. Chesnut, state secretary of labor and industry, said:

"The unemployment of each miner involved in the current work stoppage at any coal mine which has been seized by the U. S. government is due to voluntarily leaving without good cause."

"Such individuals are, therefore, ineligible to receive compensation or waiting period credits x x x"

Oakland's 1945 Tax Rate Raised 10 Cents on $100

By GEORGE H. HANST
OAKLAND, May 10.—Oakland's city tax rate for 1945 will be seven cents on each $100 of assessable property, a raise of ten cents over last year. It was announced by Mayor Lawrence M. Fraley following a meeting of the mayor and town council.

During the past twelve years the rate has averaged sixty-two and one-half cents, with the rate being seventy cents in 1940, '41 and '42. In fixing the rate for this year, Mayor Fraley pointed out that lost revenue in the past few years had amounted to $3,450, including a decrease of $850 in the gasoline tax, elimination of city licenses which formerly raised $900, elimination of tax on household goods amounting to $750, and decrease of $400 in state income taxes, $350 on bank stocks and $200 on automobile taxes.

In addition to the losses, he also pointed out the increase in cost of labor, water and street material, garbage removal and truck operation.

Of the total tax rate, forty-five cents will be used for general expenses and twenty-five cents for retirement of the bonded indebtedness.

The town's assessable basis is $2,099,233 of which the real estate assessment amounts to $1,369,223 and the returns from the state tax commission on corporations, $230,010.

Waste Paper Report
Garrett county furnished 50,688 pounds of paper of various kinds to the war effort during the months of March and April, according to returns furnished by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, at Luke, to E. Ray Jones, chairman of the county salvage committee. The collections were as follows: Accident, 6,260 pounds; Bittinger, 2,725; Friendsville, 5,865; Grantsville, 8,830; Oakland, 27,066. A small amount of tin was collected and shipped from Oakland in April Jones said.

Paper and tin remain among the critical war materials needed. Mr. Jones added, and further collections will be made. Cars of paper are loaded at Piedmont on the last Saturday of each month and the various communities are asked to arrange for their collections and shipments at that time. Magazines may, however, be taken to the Luke mill at any time, he said. The next loading of tin will be on June 30.

GAMES TODAY
Fort Hill at Allegany
Beall at Hyndman

The Bi-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference race will reach the all-way mark this afternoon, either permitting, when Allegany and Fort Hill collide at Campobello, the first place at stake and Hyndman engages the Beall High Mountaineers, of Frostburg, at Hyndman, a 30th clash will start at 4 o'clock.

The scrap at Campobello will find no perfect conference records colliding. The Sentinels and Campobello, having the best record, are facing the top rung with three consecutive triumphs, also will be attaining it out for the pacesetter lot in the intra-city series.

Adding to the tussle will be the expected pitching battle between Earl "Ace" Jewell, Fort Hill ace, and Tom Burns, Allegany star. Each hurler has been credited with all of its school's conference triumphs, Jewell turning back Beall 3-2, LaSalle 7-1 and Hyndman 5-2, and Burns besting Hyndman 10-2, Beall 1-1 and LaSalle 23-10.

The game will be the third intra-city tussle of the week, Fort Hill and Allegany having launched city campaigns earlier this week by turning back the LaSalle High Explorers. It will probably be Johnny Wollman vs. Jack Workman on the mound at Hyndman. Coach Lloyd Keller's Pennsylvanians and "Jake" Carrington's Mountaineers share third place with one victory and two setbacks. LaSalle defeated LaSalle 4-2 while losing to Fort Hill and Allegany. Net Aces Cleared Of Charges They 'Padded' Expenses

Talbert and Segura Win Apology from Tennis Magazine Editor

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Bill Talbert and Francisco (Pancho) Segura, ranked No. 2 and 3 respectively, have been cleared by the United States Lawn Tennis Association of charges they were paid excessive expense monies, President Holcombe Ward said today.

Ward said that the charges were made by Edward Stillman, editor of the professional tennis magazine, who later apologized to the USLTA and the two players individually.

In addition, the tennis boss said the two players immediately filed complete reports of expenses received for the Florida tournament and these were verified in every way. The expenses were found not excessive and the players cleared.

Although the charge and clearance of the players said the supposed incidents happened at a "Florida tournament," staff members of the USLTA said the expenses paid the pair for appearances in exhibitions at Palm Beach and Pompano actually were involved.

Talbert, formerly of Cincinnati but now employed in war work at Wilmington, Del., received a letter from Stillman which said in part "I probably have done you an injustice, as well as Pancho Segura, in mentioning statements about unusual expenses given for play in Florida this season."

"My information was not from very authentic sources, as I picked this up from gossip from different people x x x."

Unbeaten Pavot Being Pointed For Preakness

Champion Two-Year-Old of 1944 Won't Start in Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Walter M. Jeffords' unbeaten Pavot definitely will not be a starter in the Kentucky Derby when the barrier is released from the $75,000 three-year-old turf classic at Churchill Downs probably June 2 or 9.

"We announced last fall that he wouldn't be pointed for the derby," said Jeffords today as he and Trainer Oscar White watched the son of Case Ace cool out after a brief workout at Belmont park. "Even though the derby will be run a month later than usual we are sticking by our decision. In fact, we didn't even enter him."

White pointed out that he could have had the 1944 two-year-old champion ready for the derby except that the colt picked up a pin last month at his Berlin, Md., winter quarters.

"That set him back two weeks so we decided not to rush matters and will point him for the Preakness," White added. The Preakness is expected to be run at Pimlico the week after the start of the Spartan baseball team, Breslin, a Battle Creek, Mich., youth, is a first baseman and a hard hitter.

Although Pavot won eight straight races in picking up $179,040 last year he never impressed as a horse that would like the mile and one-quarter of the derby.

In the six and one-half furlongs of the Hopeful, Pavot had to go all out to hold off the stretch bid of William Ziegler, Jr., Esteem, a colt that figures to bid strongly for derby honors. The Jeffords runner was the Belmont futurity winner, at the same distance, by two lengths but Aleks, from the Christiana stables, was making up ground rapidly at the finish.

Greatest Athletic Program Is Started In European Camps

PARIS, May 10 (AP)—The greatest athletic program ever undertaken in the history of sports—involving mountains of equipment and millions of American soldiers left in Europe—is getting under way.

Along with a thorough education program, athletics will largely replace military training for troops awaiting shipment to the United States for transfer to the Pacific or demobilization. And for those in the army of occupation athletics will become part of a regulatory physical training program and leisure time activity.

The program, which was planned long before V-E day, calls for competition in twenty-two different sports. There will be tours by famous soldier and civilian athletes, inter-Ally contests and perhaps a "Victory Games" competition in some European capital.

Lt. Col. F. G. McCormick, former director of athletics at the University of Minnesota, who is supervising the program, said hundreds of tons of equipment necessary for the various sports already had arrived from the United States and more is on the way.

Col. E. R. Bradley, Famous Turfman, To Retire

PALM BEACH, Fla., May 10 (AP)—Col. E. R. Bradley, famous Kentucky horse breeder, who rose from humble steel worker to multi-millionaire, has decided to retire and already has begun to liquidate some of his holdings, it was disclosed today.

Barry Shannon, publisher of the Palm Beach Post Times published at West Palm Beach and Bradley's representative here, said the 86-year-old turfman "stated before he left Palm Beach ten days ago that he intended to retire from business."

Shannon said Bradley's famed Beach Club Casino in Palm Beach, built by the Kentucky sportsman in 1886, would be torn down and the property donated to the City of Palm Beach for use as a public park.

Racing Commission Approves Joint Pimlico Meeting Opening Next Week

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission today approved an eleven-day joint spring meeting to be conducted at Pimlico by Maryland's four major tracks beginning next Wednesday.

There will be a ten-day stand from May 16 through May 26, and the commission also approved an eleven-day day either June 9 or June 16 for the running of the Preakness—one week following the Kentucky derby, the date of which has not been determined.

Just before the session, Governor O'Connor announced that Chairman Frank Small, Jr., would be succeeded by George P. Mahoney, an associate commissioner. Small said his business duties would prevent him from continuing as chairman.

On the day of the $50,000-added Preakness, three other big stakes also will be run, the $30,000-added Dixie handicap, the $15,000-added Pimlico Oaks, and the $7,500 Pimlico Nursery, making it one of the nation's richest turf days.

During the first ten days, nine overnight handicaps bearing the names of spring stakes usually conducted at Bowie, Havre de Grace and Pimlico, will be run. There was not sufficient time to close entries to these stakes in the usual manner. There will be three $10,000 stakes, five worth $7,500, and one $5,000 affair.

The commission ruled that average purse distribution for the eleven days must be $20,000, but officials said the actual amount probably would reach about $26,000 daily.

These stakes were listed for the May 16-26 meeting:
May 16—Baltimore Spring handicap, six furlongs, 3-year-olds and up, $7,500.
May 17—Rembert handicap, six furlongs, 3-year-olds, $7,500.
May 19—Rowe Memorial handicap, six furlongs, 3-year-olds and up, $7,500.
May 21—Gittings handicap, mile and a sixteenth, 3-year-olds and up, $7,500.
May 22—Carroll handicap, furlongs and mares, six furlongs, 3-year-olds and up, $7,500.
May 23—Ral Parr stakes, four and a half furlongs, 2-year-olds, $5,000.
May 24—Survivor stakes, mile and a sixteenth, 3-year-olds, $10,000.
May 25—Jervis Spencer Steeplechase, two miles, 4-year-olds and up, $10,000.
May 26—Philadelphia handicap, mile and a sixteenth, 3-year-olds and up, $10,000.

The commission said that dates for the state's four half-mile tracks at Cumberland, Bel Air, Hagerstown and Marlboro probably would be considered at another meeting next Monday or Tuesday.

Hagerstown has requested a ten-day meeting beginning July 10, and Pungo at Cumberland is expected to request ten days starting August 7.

Mahoney Heads Race Commission

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10 (AP)—George P. Mahoney, of Baltimore, was named chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission on which he served as an associate member since 1941, Governor O'Connor disclosed today.

He succeeded Frank Small, Jr., who told the governor at a conference preceding the appointment that increased business demands might not allow him sufficient time to retain the chairmanship of the commission. He added, however, that he would continue serving as an associate member.

Legislators here recall Mahoney exposed what he called incorrect usage of major tracks of a capital improvement fund authorized by the racing commission. That statement gave rise to considerable controversy before the Senate Finance committee last February when it was working on racing legislation.

Mahoney's term of service with the racing commission will expire in 1947. The other member of the group besides Small, who represents the minority party, is H. Courtenay Jenifer, whose term will expire this year.

Tilden To Tour Bases

PERNDAL, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Bill Tilden, who now calls himself a 52-year-old fossil, plays a Seventh war low exhibition here Saturday and Sunday with Winnie Richards, his partner of twenty-seven years ago, and then embarks on a tour of thirty-five army and navy bases.

Major Loop Card Again Washed Out

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—For the second time during this young season, old Jupiter Pluvius washed out the entire major league baseball schedule today with only the Washington-St. Louis night game remaining.

With twenty-one playing days of the season gone by, the sixteen big league teams have already been plagued with forty-five postponements, twenty-four in the National League and twenty-one in the American. The Chicago White Sox, Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds have suffered the most, each being washed out of eight games.

Postponements means double-headers later on—and double-headers mean an extra burden on the pitching staffs. Luckily, most clubs have above average hurling corps this season, if past performances are any indication.

The Detroit Tigers pace all clubs with eleven out of fifteen complete games. The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians are close behind with ten out of fourteen and ten out of fifteen respectively. The St. Louis Cardinals with eight out of fifteen are best in the National. Philadelphia's Phillies show the poorest percentage with only five out of seventeen.

Operation of City Airport Discussed At Meeting Here

CAA Official Recommends Appointment of Businessmen's Committee

A recommendation that the mayor and city council appoint by ordinance a committee of local businessmen of ability to handle operation of the municipal airport was offered to members of the city airport committee yesterday by Robert J. Donahue, Civil Aeronautics Administration advisor on airport operations.

Donahue said the ordinance would take no authority from the mayor and council, but rather would provide for clearance of operation matters through the committee of businessmen who would report their findings to the city officials.

Members of the airport committee, including Charles Z. Heskett, airport director, met at the offices of the chamber of commerce at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon with Donahue, Albert H. Wessell, supervisor of airports of the CAA, and Regional J. Sutherland, district engineer of the CAA with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Inspect Airport

The three CAA officials inspected the airport yesterday prior to the session, and Wessell reported that with completion of work under the present contract, installation of lighting and sowing of grass seed, work under the present program will be completed.

On completion of the program, he said, Cumberland will have a class airport ready for operation.

Wessell termed the local set-up "excellent" and said the residents of the city have been very cooperative with the CAA in development of the airport.

Both Wessell and Donahue declared they can see no reason why operation of the local airport cannot be one of considerable magnitude and one that will assist materially in the development of Cumberland.

Intangible Assets Valuable

For eight years Donahue was manager of the Roanoke, Va., airport which he said started from scratch as a cow pasture. Last year, that airport showed a profit of $49,500, he said in discussing airport management and operation.

Direct financial returns, Donahue pointed out, are only a partial measure of the value of an airport to a city. Intangible assets such as aiding business are much more valuable than actual dollars and cents made in operation, he stated.

There is no reason why an airport in a community such as Cumberland should not be self-sustaining, Donahue said, and Wessell added that the CAA is anxious for airports to be self-sustaining just as it is anxious to get them started.

In recommending appointment of a committee of businessmen to handle airport operation, Donahue reminded that in some cities airports become white elephants simply because there is no clear cut plan for operation and a lack of recognition of the need for businesslike management and operation.

Four Revenue Sources

Revenue for the airport will come from four principal sources, Donahue said, listing them in the order of their importance as: 1. sale of gasoline and oil; 2. rental of space in buildings such as hangars and the administration building; 3. commercial rentals, and 4. landing fees from established airlines using the airport.

Members of the committee who attended the meeting yesterday were Edmund S. Burke, chairman; Oscar Gurley, Arthur J. Weber, T. Donald Shires and Mayor Thomas S. Post. Harold W. Smith, secretary to the committee also attended.

Cpl. Francis Becker Will Be Reassigned

Cpl. Francis G. Becker, 31, husband of Mrs. Virginia O. Becker, 633 North Centre street, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper M. Becker, 139 Hanover street, has arrived at Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 at Miami Beach, Fla., for reassignment processing after completing a tour of duty outside the continental United States. He will remain at the station about two weeks and much of his time will be devoted to rest and recreation.

Cpl. Becker, who entered the army in July 1941, was a combat infantryman in the South Pacific before being transferred to the air corps. He holds the Combat Infantry Badge and is authorized to wear the Purple Heart for injuries suffered while a combat soldier.

Charles Oglebay, Jr., Receives Commission

Aviation Student Charles A. Oglebay, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Oglebay, 884 Sperry Terrace, Cumberland, yesterday became a second lieutenant in the army air forces after completing bombardier training at the Carlisle, N. M. army air field.

Mr. Oglebay is now one of the most highly trained men in the army air forces. At Carlisle he received instruction in deadreckoning navigation as well as the standard bombardiering course. As an officer in the army air forces he is now ready for active duty, but his destination has not been disclosed.

Mr. Oglebay is a former student of Frostburg State Teachers college, Frostburg.

Two New Men Named To Local MP Detail

Pfc. Fred White, Marion, Va., and Pfc. Leon K. Gray, Baltimore, arrived here last evening to begin their duties with the local military police detail, according to an announcement by Staff Sgt. Harold Fleming.

They will replace Cpl. Joseph Fontaine and Pfc. Sidney Anderson who left for Baltimore after a two-months assignment here.

Chest and War Fund Receipts Reach $101,385

Office Secretary Will Attend Northeastern Institute of Chest

Seventy-eight per cent or $101,385.79 in subscriptions to the 1945 National War Fund in Allegany county and Cumberland Community Chest was paid to May 1, Harold W. Smith, chest president, announced last night following a meeting of the board of directors of the organization.

Receipts of $2,501.13 in the month of April boosted to $45,077.60 the amount of cash the war fund and chest have on hand. There were no disbursements during the month.

The Community Chest account disclosed a balance on hand as of March 31 of $6,955.63. There were no receipts in April but disbursements amounted to $4,339.44, leaving a balance on May 1 of $2,616.19.

Smith said that all nine of the member agencies of the chest are in a good financial condition with sufficient funds on hand to handle all obligations.

Management of the fund raising campaign next fall was discussed at the session, according to Smith, who announced that Mrs. Annie B. Everline, office secretary of the chest, will attend the Northeastern Institute of Community Chests and Councils to be held at Rochester N. Y., from May 14 to May 26.

Textile Workers Accept WLB Order On Wage Requests

Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, voted to accept a National War Labor Board directive which denied a general eighteen-cent wage increase and pay for holidays not worked but approved adjustments and shift differentials in every manner possible.

The directive accepted at the second of two meetings yesterday, denied the union's request for a general wage increase but gave both parties the right to negotiate further and to ask increases for particular job classifications or for a general wage increase.

Wage Conference Planned

Dundon said the national TWUWA anticipated calling a general conference to work out general wage standards for the rayon industry and then ask a general wage increase.

The directive approves the agreement between the company and union known as "Composite Schedule Including Negotiated Changes in Step Rates and Special Adjustments." This will be retroactive to September 3, 1944, Dundon said.

Night shift bonuses of five cents an hour for the second shift and ten cents an hour for the third shift are provided with the effective date set at February 1, 1944.

Holiday Request Denied

The union's request for pay for unworked holidays was denied.

"The issue of special rate adjustments for textile machine cleaners and cafeteria employees was remanded to the parties for further negotiations. If agreement is not reached the issue will be submitted to arbitration."

The parties have fourteen days from May 3 to petition for a review.

Brief addresses were made by Mylo S. Downey, state boys' club agent, Ural Bee, livestock specialist of the University of Maryland extension service, and Albert O'Neal, chairman of the Allegany County Agricultural Adjustment Administration who for more than twenty years served as a local leader.
